بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

In the name of Allaah, the Most Merciful, the Bestower of Mercy

Is it obligatory to respond to the sneezer when he praises Allaah?

Question: Is saying: “May Allaah have mercy upon you,” to the one who sneezes and returning the Salaam a communal obligation (Fard Al-Kifaayah) or an individual obligation upon all those who hear it?

Shaykh Muqbil ibn Haadee al-Waadi’ee (رَحِمَهُ اللَّهُ):¹ As for returning the Salaam then one person suffices for the group, as is affirmed from the Prophet (sallallaahu alayhi wa sallam). As for saying: “May Allaah have mercy upon you,” for the one who sneezes, it is obligatory upon all who hear him to say: “May Allaah have mercy upon you” to him. For the Prophet, upon him and his family be prayers and peace, said:

إذا عطس أحدكم فحمد الله كان على كل من سمعه أن يشمته

“If one of you sneezes and praises Allaah then it is upon everyone who hears him to say: ‘may Allaah have mercy upon you.’”²

Or (he said something) with this meaning.

¹ (رَحِمَهُ اللَّهُ) (rahimahullaah) May Allaah the Most High have mercy on him

² There is a report narrated by al-Bukhaaree (6223) from Aboo Hurairah (رضي الله عنه), from the Prophet (ﷺ) who said: “Allaah likes the act of sneezing and dislikes the act of yawning, so if any one of you sneezes and praises Allaah (says ‘al-hamdu Lillaah’), it is a duty on every Muslim who hears him to say to him, ‘Yarhamuk Allaah (may Allaah have mercy on you).’”
